

The National Popular Vote scheme is merely a Contract

It is not even a national LAW!

(Contracts are called “Compacts” when governments enter into them.)

It does not have the clarity, wider acceptance, general understanding, nor the supremacy of either the Constitution, nor even a law. Yet, it is being sold (and ‘purchased’) as though it does! Electing the President requires nothing less.

- A Constitution is STRUCTURE.
- A Law is a carefully-debated and published RULE that is enforced equally upon everyone.
- A Contract, or Compact, is a simple AGREEMENT that is binding ONLY on the parties that enter into it, binding only upon those parties. Only 20 or 21 States will sign on to the NPV scheme. A majority of States will not.

What takes Precedence?

Each can void or vacate the ones below; not vice versa.

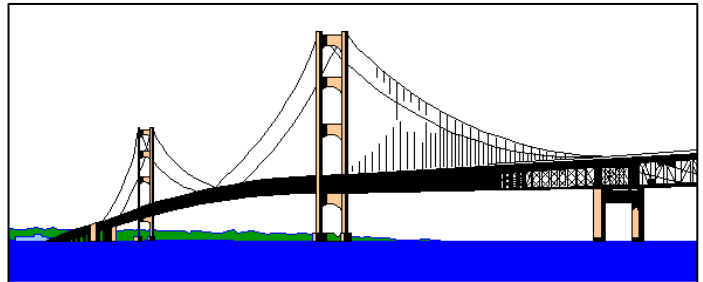

CONSTITUTION
(Most Stable Structure)

Law (Very Stable)

Compact (Least Stable)

The National Popular Vote scheme is only a Compact. National Popular Vote!

In effect, the very flawed National Popular Vote Interstate Compact scheme is akin to changing the direction of traffic to East-West on Michigan’s North-South aligned Mackinac Bridge simply by signing a CONTRACT!
