

The National Popular Vote scheme is HIGHLY PARTISAN

“The Electoral College is nothing more than the 50 sovereign STATES casting their Votes for the offices of the President and Vice President – of the United STATES. Very importantly, it is also nothing LESS.”

They are selling the NPV scheme as a “Bipartisan” effort. It simply is not.

Especially because the National Popular Vote’s sales team has signed up all the Deep Blue Democrat-controlled States that there are already, they are still 65 Electoral Votes worth of States short of their self-defined trigger point.

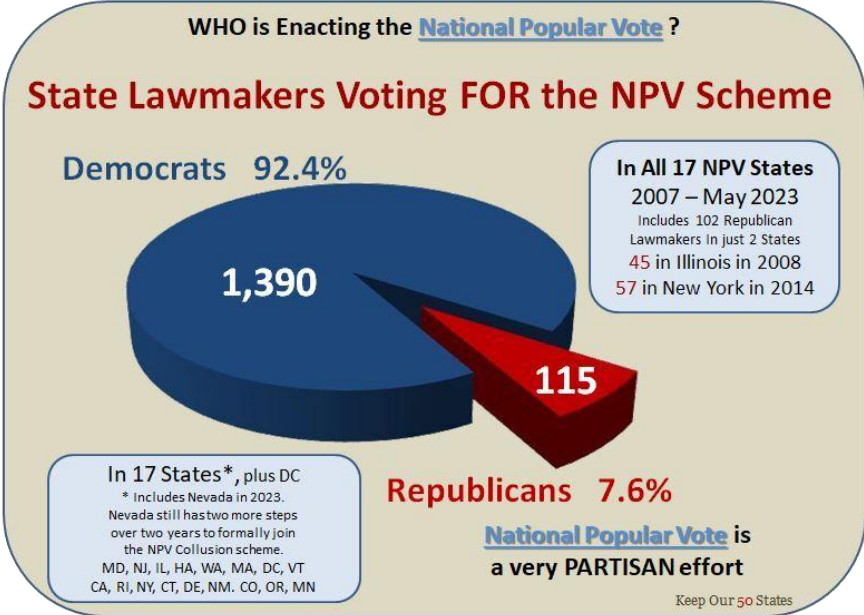

The 16 States, plus DC of course, that have joined NPV already have all had the “Democrat Trifecta” – where the Democrat Party controls the Governor, the Senate and the House in the State – the three parts of government that are needed to change the Rules. In two States, though – Hawaii in 2006 & 2008 and California in 2009 & 2011 – Republican Governors VETOED the National Popular Vote plan twice each. However, both Governors had their 2nd vetoes overridden by the very heavy Democrat majorities in the Legislatures.

Who, exactly, are the State lawmakers voting to GIVE AWAY their State’s Votes?

Maryland was the first State to join the NPV Collusion Contract in 2007. They added 10 more through 2014 (New York). Then, from 2018 through 2020, the California NPV office and their paid sales staff were able to add 5 more States.

Counting only those 17 States, plus DC of course, where the Legislature succeeded in enacting the NPV for their State, a total of 1,505 State lawmakers cast votes to PASS the National Popular Vote Compact scheme. Of those YES votes, a whopping 1,390 are Democrats (92%)! Just 115 Republicans in total, or 7.6% of the YES votes made up the balance!

But, check this out – In just TWO of those Deep Blue States came 102 of those 115 Republican votes (89% of them). Illinois (in 2008) had 45 and New York (in 2014) had 57 GOP votes.

The Republican Party Weighs In

In 2016, the Republican Party, at its national convention, adopted a new Party Platform and they added for the first time clear and unambiguous language showing that the GOP formally opposes the NPV concept and that it should be repealed anywhere that it had been approved.

Connecticut was the next State who's Legislature and Governor agreed to GIVE AWAY the control of Connecticut's 7 Votes for President to people NOT from Connecticut! Five more Democrat Blue States joined the NPV scheme by 2020, representing 195 Electoral Votes.

“Honest Elections and the Electoral College”

“We oppose the National Popular Vote Interstate Compact and any other scheme to abolish or distort the procedures of the Electoral College. An unconstitutional effort to impose National Popular Vote would be a grave threat to our federal system and a guarantee of corruption, as every ballot box in every state would offer a chance to steal the Honest Elections and the Electoral College

An unconstitutional effort to impose National Popular Vote would be a grave threat to our federal system and a guarantee of corruption, as every ballot box in every state would offer a chance to steal the presidency. We urge state legislatures that have voted for this proposal to rescind their approval.”

Full Court Press in 2023

In 2023, with new Legislatures in place, the NPV office in California launched renewed assaults in 13 Non-NPV States. We count each 2-year Legislative session counting as one attempt (not each Bill); these 2023 Bills represent the NPV's 173rd through 185th attempt. They have introduced their NPV scheme in all 50 States at least once, with an average of almost 4 times each.

Since 2005 and through May 2023, NPV has succeeded a total of 18 times, having been rejected by 34 States in 163 two-year State Legislative session attempts.

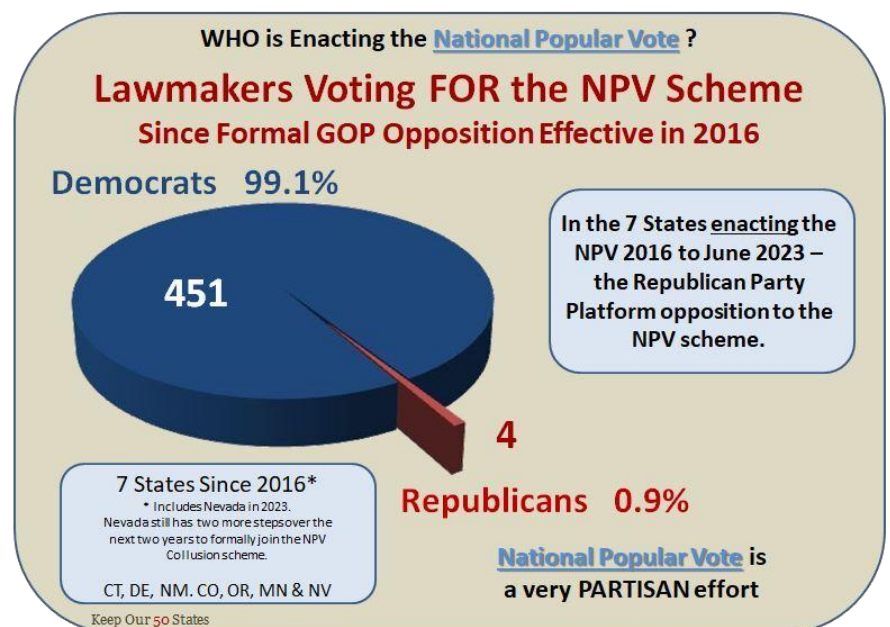

But SINCE 2016, where the NPV has PASSED, there has been a total of 455 YES votes that lawmakers cast in the seven Legislatures – a stunning 451 of those are Democrats (99.1%) and just FOUR (4) are Republicans (0.9%).

2023-2024 Sessions NPV Sponsors

In this current legislative term, where the NPV Office in California has introduced their bill in 13 States through May, there are 1,926 total lawmakers, with 166 of them sponsoring NPV. Of those 166, 164 are Democrats (98.8%) and just 2 are GOP (0.8%). 1 Republican is in Minnesota and the other is in Maine – and the Minnesota Republican DID NOT EVEN VOTE FOR the NPV when it passed in his State!
